

In English we can:

- write non chronological geographical reports.
- write stories set in an imaginary world

As Computer Users we can:

- search and find information effectively online.
- use advanced search techniques to refine searches

As Historians we can:

- learn about Neolithic hunter Gatherers and early farmers in the Stone Age
- find out about the transition to the Bronze Age and the changes it brought about
- learn about the Iron Age and daily life skills
- make comparisons between historical periods, explaining things that have changed and things that have stayed the same.

As Scientists we can:

- compare and group together everyday, materials on the basis of their properties, including, hardness and transparency
- give reasons based on evidence for comparative and fair test for the particular uses of everyday materials including metals wood and plastic

From Caves to Canada

Year 5

Spring 1

Would you rather live in a cave or an igloo?

In DT we can:

- make a prototype
- design and make a shelter that is strong and fit for purpose
- use a range of tools and equipment

In PSHE we can:

- identify the difference between rights and responsibilities and the impact they can have on the rest of the world.

As Mathematicians we can:

- can measure accurately
- can work out time and temperature differences

Thinkers Keys

The prediction, the alternative, the reverse

Key Learning Skills

Collaborating, investigating, researching, logical thinking, creating new knowledge, reflecting, making connections

In Geography we can:

- collect information about a place and use it in a report
- find possible answers to our own geographical questions
- plan a journey to Canada taking account of distance and time
- explain how a location fits into its wider geographical location
- explain what a place might be like in the future taking account of issues impacting on human features
- name and locate many of the worlds mountain regions on maps
- locate the USA and Canada on a world map and Atlas

In Dance we can:

- plan and perform a Stone Age dance creatively and collaboratively

